Opening Session Keynote Speaker, Joe Gibbs

A successful organization starts with its people. This has long been the philosophy of Joe Gibbs. It helped carry him to three Super Bowl championships and the NFL Hall of Fame as head coach of the NFL's Washington Redskins and has been a defining principle behind building Joe Gibbs Racing (JGR) into one of NASCAR's most successful race teams.

It is not surprising that JGR has experienced amazing success and growth since Gibbs founded the operation in 1991. It began its first season of racing in 1992 with just 18 crew members and JGR now employs close to 450 people. Despite the immense growth, the company remains defined by the same characteristics of its founder and owner, Joe Gibbs: Integrity, a relentless work ethic, determination, perseverance and team building.

Those characteristics have been the driving force behind JGR's success which includes 145 overall wins in NASCAR, three NASCAR Cup Series championships (2000, 2002, and 2005) and the organization's first NASCAR Nationwide Series owners' championship in 2008.

Of course he built and refined those characteristics in football and with the Washington Redskins where he made four Super Bowl appearances, winning three (Super Bowl XVII, Super Bowl XXII and Super Bowl XXVI).

In addition to his working daily with J.D. at JGR and Coy at JGRMX, as well as completing the Game Plan For Life in 2009, Gibbs also remains committed to Youth For Tomorrow, a home he founded in Bristow, VA that is now licensed to house up to 106 troubled boys and girls ages 11-18. He and his wife Pat, currently reside near JGR's Huntersville, NC headquarters and enjoy spending time with their eight grandchildren.
